

Typical Illustration of Hybrid Panic Alarm System with CCTV Cameras

You are in control, even when you are away with iRisco smart phone app, it will enabling you to control the system remotely and receive notifications.

In an alarm event of a safety threat, the Risco system transmit real-time notification over the internet directly to user smart phone, so that you can decide if and how to react.

In an event of a safety threat, the user depress the wireless panic button. The wireless signal from the panic button will travel over the air to be received by the wireless receiver a distance away